Note from the translator:

The Yoyo fishing refers to a very popular attraction for children and some couples at Japanese festivals. The balloons are typically small, round, and colorful and filled with enough water so they float upright above the surface of the water. A rubber band and a paper clip is attached to the top of each balloon. Players "fish" for the balloons with a paper clip attached to another rubber band, or (more commonly), a twisted "line" of paper. The up and down motion of the balloon after the balloon is retrieved gives the event its name. In this chapter, Mikako has gone ahead and replaced all the balloons with tits using the reasoning that both tits and these balloons bounce if they are suspended.

Hope you enjoyed the chapter.

There's still some time left before the last check...

...some trivia.

- Most of the time for scanning this chapter has been used to determine whose waifu is 「Nymph」. We determined that they make Nymphs in series. Everybody happy.
- The most listened track during the editing of this manga has been "Natsuiro no Nancy" by Nymph. The song is still looping like the fist of the North Star.

Trivia:

- This chapter was disgusting.
Because there was no Nymph.
- One epic phrase has been said by Necrophantasia during the making:
"I win the argument by default because your tastes are simply invalid"
- The group shed manly tears when this chapter was done. Damn all those hellish SFX!
